DigniCap Scalp Cooling System

Losing hair is one of the most noticeable and upsetting side effects for cancer patients going through chemotherapy. Cold cap therapy is a scalp cooling system designed to help preserve hair for patients undergoing chemotherapy. Studies have shown about two-thirds of patients who have used cold cap therapy were able to preserve 50% or more of their hair. The cold cap system narrows the blood vessels beneath the skin of the scalp, reducing the amount of chemotherapy medicine that reaches the hair follicles. With less chemotherapy medicine in the follicles, the hair may be less likely to fall out. The cost for purchasing the caps and using the cooling system typically is not covered by insurance. Thus, limiting the number of patients the opportunity to help improve their quality of life and self-image. Donations can help offset the costs associated with cold cap therapy treatment for patients with limited financial resources.
